I want to thank you for your emails, please rest assured that I read every one. Your questions have been noted and I hope this update has addressed some of them. I am working closely with our assistant superintendent and our assistant pastor to address your questions. Centered in Christ our Lord, we will continue to work together to keep you updated as we receive further instructions. The latest update from the Archdiocese Superintendent of Schools was sent out to principals this afternoon. There will be an extension for distance learning beyond the original date of 4/19. The specific date has not been released.

Blessings to you and your family. Thank you.

Sincerely in Christ,
